ABS branded products are classified as
MATCHING QUALITY SPARE PARTS

ABS brake parts, ABS steering and suspension parts and the ABS wheel bearing kits can be used as a viable replacement during normal maintenance and repairs of a vehicle warranty.

Under the regulation:

The vehicle manufacturer may require for repairs under the warranty work free servicing and vehicle recall work to use original spare parts. However, as regards the normal repair and maintenance of a motor vehicle, which is not provided for free (e.g. 30.000 km service) to the customer the vehicle supplier may not require the use of original spare parts supplied by it since this would amount to a restriction of the authorised repairers freedom to use for such maintenance services on matching quality spare parts from other suppliers.
